This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

CREST—A pewit's head argent, collared sable wings addorsed bendy of four or and sable.

As borne by the SCROGGS, OF HERTFORDSHIRE, England:

ARMS—Argent on a bend azure between two greyhounds courant bendways sable, three pewits or.

CREST—A stork's head argent collared gules wings endorsed bendy of four or and sable.

(See Fairbairnes Crests of Great Britain and Ireland; the Harl. Soc. Pub. Visitation of Bedfordshire, 1566-1582-1634, pages 154 and 159; Visitation of Hertfordshire, 1572-1634, Appendix II., p. 163, and Burke's General Armory.)

RULES OF HERALDRY

To prove a right to Coat-of-Arms in England or in any of the Colonies outside the United Kingdom of Great Britain, it is necessary to show without break male descent from some person to whom Arms

(a) have been granted by patent;

(b) have been confirmed at one or other of the Visitations;

(c) have been officially recorded or registered at the College of Arms.

The Rules of Heraldry forbid to any lady, save a Queen Regent, the use of shield, crest, motto, helmet or mantling in her own right. She is, however, permitted before marriage, to display the Arms of her family upon a lozenge. During marriage the real position, heraldically, is that the identity of the wife is merged in that of the husband, who bears impaled or in pretence the Arms of his wife's family for her.

A widow reverts to the lozenge, placing thereupon the Arms of her deceased husband, conjoined with those of her own family as her husband bore them, either impaled or with hers in pretence, as circumstances dictate.

INTRODUCTION

My grandfather, GROSS SCRUGGS of Kentucky, was a remarkable man in many ways; he was determined, commanding, impatient of criticism or suggestion, yet gentle and affectionate with those whom he loved.

As I remember him, he was very proud and aristocratic and delighted in relating to me incidents and traditions connected with his family.

It was he who sowed the first seed, that later ripened into a desire to collect and preserve such data as could be obtained concerning the SCRUGGES in America.

I have spent much time and labor in a conscientious effort to gather from the many parts of our United States and the many more histories dealing with its people, times and boundary lines, such facts as I hope may prove interesting and acceptable to those now scattered, who bear this family name.

The work has been a labor of love, notwithstanding the many disappointments and discouraging setbacks, and this little volume of the descendants of RICHARD SCRUGGS, Gentleman, of England and the Virginia Province, is offered now not as a finished family history, but merely an historic basis, upon which the numerous kindred may build their records and achievements.

And now across this vast area of our United States, I send a cordial and affectionate greeting to the many known and unknown kindred, thanking each in turn, who have helped me in my efforts, and to their courteous consideration, I pass with tender veneration these "Old Ancestors" who, from constant association, have become to me as living men.

ETHEL SCRUGGS DUNKLIN.

New York City.

HISTORY

In the year 1609 the Virginia Company of London occupied a territorial grant covering two hundred miles north and two hundred miles south of Old Point Comfort and west to the Pacific.

The settlement, after passing through a series of vicissitudes, ultimately became prosperous, owing to the influx of immigrants from the Mother Country—men generally of the patrician stamp, who obtained Crown Grants of large estates, and thus became progenitors of families representing what has been termed, in modern times, "True Virginia Stock."

In 1634, the territory held by the Virginia Colony was divided into nine shires or counties—James City, Charles City, Elizabeth City, Warwick, Accomac, Nansemond, Isle of Wight, Henrico and York. In 1654 a county was formed from York called New Kent. Goochland and Cumberland Counties were included in Henrico until 1782-84, when they became independent counties.

The first English Settlement in America was made in Carolina, on Roanoke Island, in 1585, by Sir Walter Raleigh, but was abandoned the following year. In 1663 George II. granted Carolina, which had previously been attached to Virginia, to Lord Clarendon and others, and a large immigration from Virginia settled in the northern part of the Province. In 1729 the King purchased the Colony of Carolina and it was divided into two Provinces with separate governments.

Georgia was first included in the charter of the Carolinas, but in 1732 George II. granted a separate charter to General James Oglethorpe and others, and it was settled and colonized by the British in 1733. This charter covered the entire territory westward to the Mississippi River, and was called "Georgia" in compliment to the King. For a long time the early colonists were harassed by their Indian neighbors and former possessors, the Creeks, but finally succeeded in subduing them. In 1752 the charter was surrendered, proprietary government abolished, as it proved unfavorable, and Georgia became a Royal Colony, securing privileges similar to those of the other Colonies.

Tennessee was originally included within the limits of North Carolina, from which Colony the inhabitants came and first settled at Fort London.

These immigrations occurred principally from 1756 to 1761, when an Indian War broke out and armed forces were sent from the sister Colonies of Virginia and Carolina to aid the new settlers, and the Indians were defeated. In 1789 North Carolina proposed to cede the territory to the United States and by its act of May 25, 1790, Congress constituted it "The Territory of the United States South of the Ohio" (see Universal Atlas, by George F. Cram; American Dictionary & Cyclopedia, Vol. XVI).

THE SPELLING OF THE NAME

In Colonial days when America was in its infancy, the spelling of proper names seems to have been for the most part phonetic.

The name SCRUGGS occurs spelled SCRUDG, SCRUDGE, SCROGGS, SCRUG, SCRUGS, SCRUGG as well as SCRUGGS.

In Fairbairnes Crests of Great Britain and Ireland he gives authority for two ways of spelling the name, that of SCROGGS and SCRUGGS, either being correct, both coming from the same root and bearing the same family Arms; the O having the sound of U as in the word sun and son.

In America SCRUGGS has been the accepted preference, although branches of the family in Carolina, Georgia, Pennsylvania and Maryland use the O.

TOWNS NAMED "SCRUGGS"

BEDFORD COUNTY,

VIRGINIA.

COLE COUNTY,

MISSOURI.

BEDFORD COUNTY was formed in 1753 out of Lunenburg and was named for the fourth Duke of Bedford. It comprised what is known as Bedford, Campbell and a part of Franklin Counties.

Campbell County was cut from Bedford County on the southeast in 1781, and subsequently, in 1784, the County of Franklin was cut on the south side.

The town of "SCRUGGS" was originally in Bedford County, and was named in honor of that branch of the Scruggs family that settled there. After the division of Bedford and Franklin Counties, however, "SCRUGGS" became situated in the northern part of Franklin County, two miles from the present Bedford County line. The town of "SCRUGGS" in Cole County, Missouri, is situated near Jefferson City, the State Capitol.

THOMAS SCRUGGS OF SALEM, MASS.

Thomas Scruggs came to America with Endicott in the "Abigail," sailing from Weymouth, England, June 20th, 1628, and arrived at Salem, Mass., September 6, 1628, where he settled and died in 1654. He often represented the town of Salem as Deputy in the General Court; was one of the Judges of the local court, and was always recognized among the rulers of the town. In January, 1636, he received a grant of three hundred acres of land on the southwest limits of its territory (near Marblehead), in the immediate neighborhood of the seashore, in full view of the spacious bay, its promontories, islands and navigation. The month following this grant Mr. Scruggs relinquished the land in order to further a project which the leading people of Salem had at heart, a desire to establish a College on this tract. The effort failed. In an address at the Essex Institute celebration (about 1898) Pres. Robert Rantoul said: "Harvard College came near being placed on Scruggs land in Salem, when it would have been named Scruggs College."

From the little recorded of Thomas Scruggs it is evident he was a valuable and intelligent citizen, and the event that brought his career as a public man to a close proves that his mind was enlightened liberal and independent; that he was in advance of the times in which he lived. When the bitter and violent persecution of the celebrated Anne Hutchinson on account of her Antinomian sentiments took place, Mr. Scruggs disapproved and denounced it; he gave his whole influence earnestly and openly against such attempts—to suppress freedom of inquiry and the rights of conscience, in consequence he was with five other leading men, proscribed, disarmed and deprived of his public functions. He died on his estate 1654, leaving a widow, Margery and one child, Rachel. The inventory of his property, June 24, 1654, shows him to have been possessed of large estate for his times.

Richard Scruggs was granted two hundred and thirty acres in Goochland County, Virginia, in 1755, which grant had been previously owned by Drury Scruggs, who, failing to make the necessary improvements, forfeited same.

*I.-4—THOMAS SCRUGGS, son of Henry Scruggs by his wife Anne Grose, was born in New Kent County, Virginia. He married twice, firstly ..... Mitchell, a sister of Valentine Mitchell. He married secondly Juday Buford. Thomas Scruggs moved from New Kent County to Buckingham County and settled just prior to his death in Cumberland, where his will was dated April 26, 1788, in which he mentions his wife, his son Drury, and his grandson Finch Scruggs, and "my other children." The will is signed, sealed and delivered in the presence of Thomas Scrugs, Obedier Scrugs, William Anderson.

He had issue (sons):

1. William.
2. Gross.
3. Thomas.
4. Valentine.
5. Drury.

I.-1-1—

I.-1-2—

I.-1-3—JAMES SCRUGGS, son of Henry Scruggs by his wife Elizabeth, was born in Virginia March 13, 1723-4, and moved up the James River. He bought land on both sides of Slate River in Albermarle County, formerly part of Goochland County, September 10, 1760, where he settled.

I.-1-4—SAMUEL SCRUGGS, son of Henry Scruggs, was born in New Kent County, Virginia, September 30, 1726. He married Elizabeth ....., by whom he had issue:

1. Mary, born 1756, New Kent County, Virginia.
2. Anne, born 1758, New Kent County, Virginia

I.-1-6—JULIUS SCRUGGS, son of Henry Scruggs by his wife Elizabeth, was born in New Kent County, Virginia, January 1, 1736; baptized St. Peter's Parish, March 6, 1736. He married Sabra Finch, by whom he had issue (sons):

1. James, born New Kent County, Virginia, December 25, 1760, and remained in Virginia.
2. Richard, born 1764.

Julius Scruggs moved from New Kent County to Henry County, where he took his oath of allegiance in 1776.

I.-2-1—HENRY SCRUGGS, son of John Scruggs by his wife Judith Porter, married Ann ..... He moved to Cumberland County where he died in the Parish of Littleton. His will, dated April 10, 1793, and probated in Cumberland County March 24, 1794, mentions wife Ann, four children, Littleberry, Sally, Phebe, and Tabitha, his grandchildren the Le Seurs (their father Peter Le Seur, French Hugenot, was born 8ber 23, 1750, son of David Le Seur and Elizabet, his wife), granddaughter Lucy Porter Scruggs, and her Brother William. He appoints son, Littleberry Scruggs, and George Baskerville, sole executors. The will is sealed, signed and delivered in presence of Ann Seay, Fleming Cayce and Sephia Golding. Henry Scruggs had issue:

1. Littleberry.
2. Phebe, married William Richardson, September 25, 1775, Cumberland County.
3. Sally.
4. Tabitha.

I.-2-2—

I.-3-2—RICHARD SCRUGGS, son of Richard Scruggs by his wife Martha, was born in Virginia, January 10, 1720. Went with his wife and five children (also eight slaves) to the Georgia Province, and settled in St. Matthew's Parish, afterwards called Effingham County, 1757. He received land grants from the Colonial and State Governments from 1760 to 1768, being known thereby as a "Headright." He was a very prominent man and held the position of Gentleman Justice of St. Matthew's Parish November, 1764-1766.

I.-3-3—DRURY SCRUGGS, son of Richard Scruggs by his wife Martha, was born in New Kent County, Virginia, February 1, 1725. He married Mary Carter, by whom he had issue:

1. John.
2. Theoderick.
3. Jane, who married ..... Early.
4. Drury.
5. Edward.
6. Nancy or Ann, who married William Minton, November 1, 1773.
7. Carter.
8. Frances, called "Fanny," who married William Anderson.

Drury Scruggs died in Cumberland County, Virginia. His will is dated April 29, 1782, and proved August 26, 1782, in which he makes bequests to all his children and appoints his beloved wife, Mary, as guardian to "manage, do, and act" for his son, Carter Scruggs,* and if she should die before his son Carter, he appoints his son Edward to act and manage for him, etc. The will is signed, sealed, and delivered in the presence of Will Anderson, Archibald Hatcher, John L. Wood.

I.-3-4—THOMAS SCRUGGS, son of Richard Scruggs by his wife Martha, was born July 30, 1729. Heserved in the Second Virginia Regiment, 1776, and died prior to 1778. Married Kesia ....., who drew a pension from the United States Government for the services rendered by her husband in the Revolutionary War.

I.-3-5—JESSE SCRUGGS, son of Richard Scruggs by his wife Martha, was born in Virginia July 23, 1736. He moved with his family and settled in Burke County, Georgia, prior to 1774.

He had issue:

1. Gross, born in Virginia, 1758.
2. Jesse.
3. Josiah.
4. William.
5. Mary.

* It is evident that the son Carter died young, as the will of Mary Scruggs, wife of Drury Scruggs, filed in Cumberland County, 1804, makes no mention of him.

I.-4-1—WILLIAM SCRUGGS, son of Thomas Scruggs, was born in Virginia. He moved from New Kent up the James River, and in 1750 received Colonial grants of land in Albermarle County (which county was formerly a part of Goochland and Hanover Counties, Hanover County having been a part of New Kent County), and after the division of Albermarle County, part of his land became situated in Buckingham County. His will, dated May 17th, 1785, mentions one-half of 174 acres in Buckingham County to be given to his son John. He had issue:

1. Finch, born in Buckingham County, Virginia, July 13, 1772.
2. Allen, born in Buckingham County, Virginia. 1778.
3. John.

I.-4-2—GROSS SCRUGGS, Gentleman, of Bedford County, Virginia, son of Thomas Scruggs, was born in Virginia about 1736. He was sergeant in the Colonial Militia in 1758; Gentleman Justice of the Court of Bedford County, June 25, 1771; qualified as Justice of the Peace, March 26, 1771; appointed trustee to regulate the making of slopes for the passage of fish in the mill dams on Black Water River, February, 1772; was chosen County Committeeman, May 25, 1775. He was commissioned as captain of the Fifth Virginia Regiment, February 26, 1776 (commanded by Colonel Charles Scott), and served as late as March, 1778; he was a major prior to November, 1781, in the Continental line with George Washington, Commander-in-Chief. He qualified as Sheriff of Bedford County, November 24, 1783, under commission from the Governor of Virginia, dated October 6, 1783, to act during pleasure. He married (bachelor) October 4, 1768, Elizabeth Arthur, of Bedford County, sister to Benjamin Arthur. He had no issue.

Gross Scruggs' will was dated July 12, 1787, and probated in Bedford County, July 28, 1788, in which he leaves all of his estate, both real and personal, to his wife Elizabeth, and at her death to her nephew William Arthur, son of Benjamin Arthur, with a legacy to Gross Scruggs, son of Thomas Scruggs, of fifty pounds current money. He makes his wife executrix, and his brother Thomas Scruggs with Edmund Winston, executors. The will was sealed in the presence of Thomas Arthur, Anne Brown, Boyce Edison.

✳ I.-4-3—THOMAS SCRUGGS, Gentleman, son of Thomas Scruggs, married twice; he had issue by his first wife:

1. William, born in Virginia April 1, 1763.
2. Elizabeth, called "Betsy," born in Virginia, married January 25, 1785 (by the Rev. Nathaniel Shrewsbury in Bedford County, Virginia), Julius Blackburn, the son of Edward and Anna Blackburn, and grandson of William and Elizabeth Blackburn.

3. Thomas, Jr., born in Virginia.
4. Martha, called "Patsy," who married ..... Welsh, and died in Virginia.
5. Gross, born in Virginia in 1769.

Thomas Scruggs, after the death of his first wife, and about the year 1793-94, went to Scott County, Kentucky, with his five grown children, and settled them there (with the exception of his son Gross, who returned to Virginia). He gave to each, adjoining tracts of land near "Lindsay Station," about twelve miles from the city of Frankfort, and known to this day as the "Old Scruggs' Place." He gave, in addition, to his eldest son, William, two valuable slaves, man and wife, named Kiah and Joan, who had been among his own, trusted, faithful servants, and who were said to possess unusual sagacity, common sense and loyalty. These slaves, or their increase, continued in the family some time after the close of the Civil War. Thomas Scruggs returned from Kentucky to Virginia prior to 1798, and was married there to Jane Scott, the daughter of Walter Scott of Bedford County, by whom he had issue:

(1.) Reaves Scott, born in Bedford County, Virginia, November, 1799.

(2.) Richard Mitchell, born in Bedford County, Virginia, 1802.

Thomas Scruggs' will was dated November 17, 1801, and probated in Bedford County, Virginia, October 22, 1804, in which he leaves his real and personal estate to his loving wife Jane, and at her death to be equally divided between her two children. To the elder son Reaves Scott, at his majority, he bequeathes two negroes, man and wife, named Sampson and Joannah. He appoints his son Gross Scruggs and his wife Jane Scruggs, executors. The will is sealed, signed and delivered in the "presents" of Abner Ferrel, Henry Buford, Sr., Ursley G. Scott.

I.-4-4—VALENTINE SCRUGGS, Gentleman, of Buckinham County, Virginia, son of Thomas Scruggs, served in the Virginia Militia during the Revolution in Captain Ballow's Mint. Company, May 24, 1777. He was appointed and constituted Trustee by the Court of Virginia, November 5, 1793, and December 18, 1794, for extending and clearing for navigation Slate River, in Buckingham County. He married Jane Allen, the daughter of George Allen by his wife Jane Ashby, by whom he had issue:

1. George Allen.

I.-4-5—

I.-1-6-1—

I.-1-6-2—RICHARD SCRUGGS, son of Julius Scruggs by his wife Sabra Finch, was born in Virginia in 1764. He moved from Virginia to Green

County, Tenn., and settled a half mile from the town of Warrenburg. He was a wealthy planter and owner of slaves. His home was situated in the midst of his broad acres, on a high bluff, overlooking the Nola Chucky River. He married twice; firstly, in Tennessee, Elizabeth McMackin, whose mother was a Johnston. He married, secondly, the widow Davis. He had issue by his first wife only; seven sons and three daughters:

1. James, born in Tennessee, October 1, 1794.
2. John, born in Tennessee, March 4, 1797.
3. Abijah.
4. Rufus.
5. William.
6. Frederick, who died single, and was very fond of all sports, keeping a private stable of fine race horses, and possessing a number of blue ribbons taken by them at different times in New Orleans and elsewhere.
7. Richard, died single in Cynthiana, Ky.
8. Sarah, who married twice; firstly,..... Gordon; secondly, John Bayless.
9. Mary, who married John Jarnigan.
10. Martha, who married twice; firstly,..... Dinsmore, secondly, Charles Webster.

I.-2-1-1—LITTLEBERRY SCRUGGS, the only son of Henry Scruggs, by his wife Ann, was born in Virginia, and married Frances ....., by whom he had issue:

1. Lucy Porter, who married ..... Palmore.
2. William.
3. Elizabeth, who married ..... Edwards.
4. Sally, who married ..... Granger.
5. Benjamin Eliott.
6. Henry.
7. Thomas.

Littleberry Scruggs died in Cumberland County, Virginia. His will is dated December 18, 1822, and probated November 24, 1823, in which he mentions his beloved wife Frances, and six of his children. He leaves the sum of $100 to be paid his grandson Littleberry Palmore. He appoints and constitutes his friend, Colonel Maurice Langhorne, with his son Benjamin E. Scruggs, executors. The will is signed, sealed and delivered in the presence of James Aiken, Benjamin F. Sims.

I.-3-3-1—JOHN SCRUGGS, son of Drury Scruggs by his wife Mary Carter, served in the Revolution from North Carolina and participated in the battle of Guilford Court House under General Nathaniel Green. He was one of the pioneer settlers of Tennessee, where his name appears on the records of Anderson County for 200 acres in 1801, and 50 acres in 1804. He married Millie Menefee, daughter of George Menefee, by whom he had issue:

1. John, born May 31, 1797; died, May 5, 1861.

Gross Scruggs had no issue by his last two wives. He was a prominent man of his times, and amassed quite a fortune, which, at his death, became divided amongst his numerous children. He died in Alabama on his plantation, in 1856, at the advanced age of ninety-five years, blind, but in full possession of his mental faculties.

I.-4-3-(1)—REAVES SCOTT SCRUGGS, eldest son of Thomas Scruggs by his second wife Jane Scott, was born in Virginia, November, 1799. He was an influential planter in Bedford County, Virginia, and a political leader, representing the county in the State Legislature in 1846-7, and in 1847-8. In a recent letter received from Mr. Roland D. Buford, late Clerk of the County Court of Bedford County, he speaks of Reaves Scott Scruggs as follows:

"Reaves Scott Scruggs was a gentleman of more than ordinary intelligence, and a fair scholar; his chyrography was exceptional, and he was a gentleman of elegant and cultured manners.

"His last sickness was immediately preceded by a sudden attack in my office, and as he was falling I caught him in my arms and prevented his fall to the floor. His first wife was a first cousin to my sainted mother."

Reaves Scott Scruggs married twice; first, 1820, Mildred Leftwich Otey, born 1803, the daughter of Frazier Otey and his wife Mildred Leftwich,* and granddaughter of Captain John Otey, the Revolutionary soldier, and Mary Hopkins, his wife. "445 Peachtreet Street, Atlanta, Mar. 10, 1910.

To
Mrs. Ethel Scruggs Dunklin,

New York City.

My Dear Cousin:

I have had the pleasure to receive your esteemed letter of the 7th instant. Edwin Conway, of Virginia, my grandmother's father, was Chairman of 'the Committee of Safety' of Lancaster County, in that State, at the time the Revolutionary War was breaking out. He appears to have been a man of wealth and high social position, and among the first to espouse the cause of independence. He was a personal friend of George Washington, who, it seems, was often a guest at his house. I do not know certainly whether he ever held a commission as general in the Continental Army; but as he was always spoken of by his neighbors as 'General Conway,' I infer that he did. Still, the title may have been merely complimentary.

It was charged, I believe, at one time, that he and Washington became estranged, and that he was in the 'Conspiracy' (in the Continental Congress) to supplant Washington as Commander-in-Chief; but I have never been able to find any evidence in support of such a charge.

I remember hearing my grandmother (Rebecca Lindsay Conway) speaking of the close friendship between her father and Washington. She was then a girl of some six or eight years.

As history tells us there was, at one time, a conspiracy to supplant Washington, and a 'Gen. Conway' seems to have had some connection with it, but I've never been able to determine whether it was our 'Gen. Conway' or some other. Certainly, so far as I can discover, there is no documentary evidence that my grandmother's father was in the plot, altho' he may have been.

I shall look forward with much interest to the completion and publication of your work; meantime, if I can serve you, command me.

With sincere esteem,

Your kinsman,

WILLIAM L. SCRUGGS.

P. S.: There is an old pamphlet, published by William and Mary College (Williamsburg, Va.), which throws considerable light on the Scruggs-Conway geneology and history. It is long since out of print, and I know of but one copy extant. It is in the library and archives of the Daughters of the American Revolution, at Washington, D. C. You might write to the 'Historical General' of the National D. A. R's, who would probably be willing to loan it to you.

W. L. S."

When a school boy he went hunting with a gentleman friend of the family, near the city of Nashville, and while following the pastime of his father and uncles he met with a most deplorable accident. A loaded gun was discharged in his face, the shot penetrating his eye-balls and rendering him blind for life. Despite this appalling affliction he continued his education, becoming efficient in all the different English branches, and winning unstinted praise from his tutors, who, in after years, wrote some reminiscences of their days of teaching, and the record is filled with the marvelous progress of their little blind pupil. They refer to the years spent in teaching him as "genuine, bona-fide oasis in the desert of all their previous experience." In later years he became a successful inventor, his home being constantly thronged with visitors eager to see the accurate and beautiful models which he had created. His uncle, the late Mr. Criddle, appointed him executor and guardian for his five little boys. He married, in 1902, Elizabeth Stuart, of Pittsburg, Pa., the daughter of Colonel

OLD WILLS

Considering the many years ago, that the following "Old Wills" were written, it is interesting to note the spelling, the quaint and often obsolete expressions employed, as well as the fact that the "Old Ancestors" were for the most part men of education, signing and sealing these documents in their own handwriting, save in case of death-bed wills, where an X mark is sometimes found.—E. S. D.

EARLY COLONIAL LAND GRANTS IN VIRGINIA

Land Patents

From an early date the immigration of a person to Virginia, gave a title to fifty acres of land. The immigration was proved by oath before a county court, which issued a certificate of the fact. On the presentation of this certificate to the Secretary of the Colony an order for a survey was granted, which was followed by the granting of a Patent. All Patents were signed by the Governor, as representative of the Crown, and in this way were the "Grants from the Crown."

The fifty acres rights were known as "Headrights" and of course in the case of slaves and indentured servants, their grants belonged to their Masters, but were always transferable, and often passed through several hands before land was located in virtue of them.

Though not always the case it may be accepted as a general rule that the first appearance of a person as a "Patentee" or "Headright" gives the approximate date of his arrival in Virginia. The Patents state the locality of the land, the name, and often the social condition, parentage and other relationship of the "Patentee."—Richmond (Va.) Critic.

DYALL—DIAL

ARMS—Arg. on a chief gu. three crosses pattee fitchee of the field.

CREST—An armed arm holding a banner charged with a cross pattee as in the Arms (Burke's General Armory).

The Dyall family emigrated from Warwickshire, England, to Pennsylvania in company with the Hastings and Abercrombie families; later they moved to North Carolina and finally settled in Laurens Dist., South Carolina.

The town "Dial," in Cumberland County, North Carolina, was named in honor of this family.

THOMAS DYALL sold 540 a. land lying at Ahotsky power of attorney to acknowledge sale to Leonard Langston 100 a. land September 20, 1715. Test., William Whitfield, John Core, and John Dawson. These abstracts of conveyances include all deeds for Bertie and Hertford Counties, North Carolina to 1712, etc. (See North Carolina History and Gen. Reg., Vol. 1, p. 289).

THOMAS DYALL sold 640 a. land lying at Ahotsky to John Cotten. (See North Carolina Colonial Record, Vol. II, p. 330.)

" HENRY ARTHUR" DYALL was a member of the North Carolina State Militia in Colonial times and was killed in an Indian skirmish. He married Isabella Hastings, by whom he had issue:

The name of "Henry Arthur" has been given as the first ancestor's name but there is strong doubt as to its authenticity - the author + her niece feeling that husband of Isabella Hastings Dyall was Thomas Dyall, given above - but - 1924 - no proof has been found as to either name as being that of Isabella's hus, nor disproof. So it stands as printed.

1. Hastings, born November 8th, 1732.
2. James, served in Revolution, North Carolina; paid, 1784.
3. Isaac.
4. Isabella.
5. Albert.
6. John.
7. Martin, married Crystal Abercrombie, the daughter of James Abercrombie, and sister of Rebecca Abercrombie, who married Hastings Dial.

Mrs. Isabella Dyall is mentioned in the will of Thomas Ryan, Esq., of Bertie, North Carolina, January 27, 1753. After the death of her busband, Isabella Hastings Dyall went from North to South Carolina with most of her children and settled in Laurens District. She had a brother John Hastings, who became one of the wealthy men of Pennsylvania.

The bricks of which the Dial home in South Carolina was built, were brought from England and are in use at the present day by descendants. The room occupied by Isabella Hastings, the wife of Henry Arthur Dial, was kept intact for many years after her death and has been visited by members of the family from time to time, on account of the many objects of interest, especially a huge punch bowl engraved with the Dyall and Hastings coat of arms.

Cal. Delaware Wills, p. 48:

Peter Hastings, Mill Creek, Hundred, April 20, 1748; proved December 15, 1750 (G. 440); son John; granddaughter Patience Shannon; eldest son Peter; daughter Isabel and her two children; daughter Jane; daughter Mary; daughter Grace; son Isaac; executors, John Hastings (son) and Captain William McCrea.

thought to be Isabella Dyall but direct proof is lacking.

HASTINGS DIAL, son of Henry Arthur Dyall, by his wife Isabella Hastings, served in the War of 1776 on the side of the English. He married Rebecca Abercrombie, born Feb. 4th, 1739, the daughter of James Abercrombie, Attorney-General of South Carolina (1732) by whom he had issue:

1. Hastings, Jr., born 1769, died 1850.
2. Isabella, married, first, Abraham Madden; second, John Woodie.
3. James, born June 26, 1770, in North Carolina.
4. Isaac Malcolm, born February 19, 1772.
5. Henry Arthur, died young.
6. Mary, married Mabry Madden.
7. Rebecca, married James Johnson.

ISAAC MALCOLM DIAL, son of Hastings Dial, by his wife Rebecca Abercrombie, was born in South Carolina, February 19, 1772. He was a man of quick, impatient temper, of indomitable will, a brilliant mind and wealthy for his time. He married twice; firstly in 1801, Nancy Amanda Coker, born March 24, 1784, Laurens District, South Carolina, sister of Garlington and James Coker, by whom he had issue:

1. Rebecca, born March, 1802, died young.
2. Hastings, born December 5, 1804, married Mary Hill.
3. James Laurens, born October 4, 1806, married twice; firstly, Maria Louise Madden; secondly, Annie Olds Netherlands, daughter of Dr. Benjamin Netherland and his wife, Marietta Rebecca Olds.
4. Isaac Malcolm, born October 14, 1808, married Jane .....
5. Garlington Coker, born April 20, 1810.
6. Henry Arthur, born May 30, 1812, died of yellow fever in Charlestown.
7. Mary, born April 25, 1814, married twice; first, William Henderson, and second, John Hall.
8. Benjamin Franklin, born February 5, 1816, married twice; first, Barbara Howerton, and second, Amanda Fitzallen Anderson.
9. Harriett, born October 8, 1818, married Alice Coleman.
10. William Harrison, born April 18, 1820, married Katherine Adair, the daughter of Governor Adair, of Alabama, and the widow of Mr. Cook.

11. Nancy Amanda, born February 18, 1822, married William Davenport.
12. Martha Caroline, born May 6, 1824, married Samuel Adams Kirby.
13. Isabella P., born July 28, 1826, married Joseph Davenport, M. D., the brother of William Davenport, who married her sister, Nancy Amanda Dial.

Isaac Malcolm Dial married for his second wife, Mary Coker, sister to his first wife, by whom he had issue:

(1.) Drury, born 1829.
(2.) Louisa, born 1830, married, first, ... Nelson, second, ... Hunter.

GARLINGTON COKER DIAL, son of Isaac Malcolm Dial, by his first wife Nancy Coker, was born in South Carolina April 20, 1810. He left home when a young man and went to Alabama, thence to Texas, about 1844. He bought up numerous old Spanish land grants in Texas, where, enthused with the spirit of the pioneer, he organized, in Harrison County, a militia company to fight the Indians in and around Austin, of which company he was elected captain and saw much service, often joining forces with Captain Cook and his men. He was also much concerned in the war between the 'Regulators' and 'Moderators.' In 1848 he married in Caddo Parish, Louisiana, Pamelia Scogen, born 1818, the daughter of John Scogen,* by his wife Mary Lang Mosley, and brought her back to his Texas home at Marshall. Garlington Coker Dial was a man highly esteemed for his rigid integrity, keen justice and unquestioned honesty. He was a consistent "Old School" Presbyterian and his home reflected his splendid personality and high ideals. He died at the beginning of the Civil War, and his wife some eleven years later. He had issue:

1. Mary Isabella Hastings, married in Robertson County, Texas, James Briscoe Scruggs, of Scott County, Kentucky.
2. Martha Caroline, married John Sims Carrington, M. D., of Virginia., by whom she had issue one child, Pauline.
3. Anna Margaret Greer, married in Texas, William Hearne of Hearne, Texas, by whom she had issue Lorenzo, William Leonard, and Idalea.
4. Robert Garlington, married Mary Earnshaw-Blanche of Louisiana, by whom he had issue, Robert, William Hastings, and Martha Earnshaw.

DUNKLYN—DUNKLIN

In the reign of King John the name was spelled D-U-N-C-L-E-N-T and was later changed to the present spelling. The following brief sketch shows the old form and the later change.

THE MANOR OF DUNCLENT.

DUNCLENT, or Dunclent Park, is situated partly in the Parish of Stone, and partly in the Parish of Kidderminster. In the Conqueror's time it was the land of St. Guthlac, and held by Nigellus (see Domesday, Tax. IX). There were in demesne one carucate, two bordares and two herdsmen, and there might have been five carucates more. It was worth 25s. but was only worth 10s. at the time of the survey. Odo had formerly held it of St. Guthlas. It afterwards became the property of the Beauchamps, and was held of them by the D-U-N-C-L-E-N-T-S, a family who took their name from this place so early as 12 John (see Red Book of the Exchequer).*

EDMUND DE DUNCLENT (see Record of the Tower 9 Edward II) presented to the Parsonage of Churchill, March 16, 1631, and 7 Henry VI, the heir of Amicia Dunclent held the lands in Dunclent which formerly belonged to Stephen de Bosco, and which the said Amicia had held.

*There were no surnames in England until the time of the Conqueror, who established the custom when he had Doomsday Book compiled, and some families took their name from the location of their dwelling, or from their occupations.

DUNCLENT (see Records of the Exchequer) afterwards came to the Barons of Abergavenny. Mr. John Moore, ancestor of the Foliots of Pirton, sometime held it. It then passed to Mr. Brode, and is now the property of Lord Foley. In Dunclent is a parcel of land called "Monksurlong," which formerly belonged to the Abbot of Bordesley, and at the suppression of that house 36 Henry VIII, was given by the King to John Maynard, who conveyed it to Mr. Edward Brode.

Aubrey, in his survey of Surrey, says: "I cannot help taking particular notice of an estate at D-U-N-K-L-Y-N in WORCESTERSHIRE, purchased by Mr. Foley, at about 300 pounds per ann. which was sandy ground covered with heathand improved to about 600 pounds per ann. by letting the waters over it." (see Nash's History of Worcestershire, Vol. II, pp. 386, 387.)

DUNCLENT OF DUNCLENT

ARMS—On a bend cottised three escollops.

These arms are on a seal appended to a charter, dated 42 Edward III, whereby John de Dunclent grants to John, son of Edmund de Dunclent, a rent of 6s., issuing out of Churchill Mill, which Clement de Dunclent, his father, had of a gift of John Melford, formerly Lord of Churchill juxta Kidderminster (see Heldry of Worcestershire, by Sydney Grazebrook, Vol. I, p. 180; also Nash's History of Worcestershire, Vol. I, p. 190).

THE DUNKLIN FAMILY

OF SOUTH CAROLINA

I.—JOSEPH DUNKLIN sailed from London to Charleston, South Carolina. On the same ship was Jean Wathin* of Wales. Soon after leaving port they became acquainted, and were married shortly after the arrival of the boat at Charleston. They settled at Four Hole Swamp, St. Mathew's Parish, near Bonneau, Berkley District, where they are both buried. Jean Wathin was considered a very beautiful woman of her day, and it was doubtless that same beauty that first attracted the gallant Joseph Dunklin. He was appointed on January 16, 1777, Inquiror and Collector of St. Matthew's Parish, including Orangeburg Township, for the purpose of raising and collecting taxes. Joseph Dunklin died soon after the close of the Revolutionary War, and his wife two years later. The old Dunklin "burying-ground" is near Four Hole Swamp, above Charleston. Joseph Dunklin had issue by his wife Jean:

1. Joseph.
2. John.
3. Ann (called "Nancy"), married twice; first, William Shipp, who died February 5, 1788, his will is on file in Greenville Court House,

* This name is found spelled Worthyn, Worthin, Wathin.

South Carolina. She married for her second husband, Nat Sullivan.

4. James.
5. Mary, born February 17. 1772, married December 19, 1787, Hewlett Sullivan, son of Charles Sullivan and his wife Mary, the widow Johnson of Goochland and Charlotte Counties, Virginia. Hewlett Sullivan was a magistrate in Greenville County, South Carolina, and represented the Greenville District in the State Legislature and Senate. He was the first advocate of the free school system in South Carolina. He died July 11, 1830, and his wife Mary, June 12, 1850. They had issue eight sons and four daughters.
6. Elizabeth.
7. William, born May 17, 1781, Orangeburg Township.

The children of Joseph and Jean Dunklin moved, in 1785, up the country, and settled in a locality on Reedy River, afterwards named in their honor, and known as DUNKLIN TOWNSHIP and DUNKLIN BRIDGE, Greenville County, South Carolina.

WILL OF JOSEPH DUNKLIN, ESQ.

In the name of God, Amen; I Joseph Dunklin, of St. Mattew's Parish, South Carolina, Berkley County, Charles Town District, Planter; being through the abundant mercy and goodness of God, tho' weak in body yet of sound and perfect understanding and memory, do constitute this my last will and testament, and desire it may be received by all as such;

First; I most humbly bequeath my Soul to God my maker, beseeching His most gracious acceptance of it through the all sufficient merits and mediation of my most compassionate Redeemer, Jesus Christ, who gave Himself to be an atonement for my sins, and is able to save to the uttermost, all that come unto God by Him, seeing He now liveth to make intercession for them, and who I trust will not reject me, a returning and penitent sinner, when I come to Him for mercy; in this hope and confidence I render up my Soul with comfort, humbly beseeching the most Blessed and Glorious Trinity, our God, most Holy, most Merciful and Gracious to prepare me for the time of my dissolution, and then take me to Himself, into that Peace and Rest and Incomparable Fecility, which He has prepared for all them that love and fear His Holy Name Amen; Blessed be God.

I give my body to the earth from whence it was taken, in full assurance of its resurrection from thence, at the last day. As for my burial I desire it may be decent without pomp or state, at the descretion of my dear wife and my executors (my dear Wife being one of my Executors hereafter named) who I doubt not will manage it with all requisite prudence.

As to my wordly estate, I will and positively order that all my just debts be paid.

First; I give and order it to be so, that all my lands be equally divided between my well beloved sons, and as to my dear wife; she is to have full possession of the said lands, and not to be interrupted by any person during her life.

As to the rest of my movable estate, it is to be equally divided amongst my family, that is, my dear Wife and Children (after my debts are paid out of the said movable estate) as they come of age; It is my desire that they shall have their part out of the said estate, and it is my desire that the said estate be equally divided, after the recording hereof or as soon as it possibly can after the Blessed Lord shall receive my breath Who gave it.

And I do constitute and appoint my dear Wife, Jean Dunklin, and Joseph Dunklin, Executors of this my last will and testament, and Trustees for my Children, in witness whereof I have hereunto set my Hand and Seal, the seventh day of May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand and seven hundred and seventy six.

JOSEPH DUNKLIN. L. S.

Sealed in the presence of,

BENJAMIN (his X mark) JOHNSON.

REBECCA JOHNSON.

WILLIAM MILLARD.

Proved before Charles Lining Esquire O. C. F. D. February 12th, 1784. At the same time qualified Joseph Dunklin Executor.

There are documents on file in Columbia, South Carolina, as follows:

I.-1—JOSEPH DUNKLIN, son of Joseph Dunklin by his wife Jean Wathin, was born in South Carolina about 1758, married Sarah Sullivan. They lived in Greenville District until 1806, when Joseph Dunklin went to Caldwell County, Kentucky, and purchased land there preparatory to making a home. He returned to South Carolina for his wife and children, was taken ill, died and was buried in the Old Homestead burying-ground.

His widow and the unmarried children later went on to Kentucky as he intended, and took possession of the home he had bought, near the City of Fredonia. Sarah Dunklin married in Kentucky, Micajah Sweeney. Joseph Dunklin served in the Revolutionary War under Generals Francis Marion and Horry. He had issue by his wife, Sarah:

1. Mary Hewlett, married March 6, 1805, David W. Gregory, in Greenville, by whom she had issue four sons and nine daughters. They moved to Chambers County, Alabama where she died November 16, 1840, and is buried in a little graveyard between Fredonia and Lafayette.
2. Joseph.
3. Jane Caroline, married Isaac Hicks. They moved to Washington County, Missouri, in 1828-30, and had issue two sons and three daughters: Robert, Joseph, Becky, Sally and Kate.
4. Daniel, born 1790.
5. Stephen Tomplot.

I.-2—JOHN DUNKLIN, son of Joseph Dunklin by his wife Jean Wathin, married Polly Bowman. The Bowman family lived on Reedy River in the fork of Laurens County, now known as John Smith's or Nismonger's Mill. Bishop Asbury on his second visit to South Carolina, stayed with the widow Bowman, the mother of Polly, and in all his travels through this country, he made this place his home. They moved to Kentucky, later settling in Washington County, Missouri, where he farmed for fifteen years; they then moved to New Madrid County, Missouri, where they both died. John Dunklin served in the Revolutionary War under Generals Francis Marion and Horry, with his brother Joseph. He had issue by his wife Polly:

1. William, married Susan Cole.
2. Jefferson.
3. Madison.
4. Nancy, married David Imboden and moved to Northern Louisiana.

I.-4—JAMES DUNKLIN, son of Joseph Dunklin by his wife Jean Wathin, was a very popular man in his day; he was a Magistrate and Member of the State Legislature of South Carolina, and lived at the Old Red House in Laurens County, so called because it was the first red house in the State. He later moved to Greenville, Alabama. He married four times, first, Elizabeth Bolling, the daughter of Samuel Bolling, who lived above Dunklins Bridge in Laurens County, by whom he had issue:

1. John.
2. Joseph.

3. Abbie, born 1797, died 1957, married Hillory Herbert, M. D. (born 1788, died 1856) of Newberry County, South Carolina. They moved to Butler County, Alabama. They had issue two sons and five daughters: George, James, Elizabeth, Lucinda, Martha Fannie and Cornelia.
4. Nancy Ann, married George B. Herbert, M.D., of Newberry County. This marriage was the first to be celebrated in Butler County, Alabama, and was conferred February, 1819.
5. Lucinda, married Ennis McDaniel, by whom she had issue two children.

James Dunklin married for his second wife, Mrs. Martha, called Margery, Law, by whom he had issue:

(1.) William A. Turner.

(2.) James Law.

(3.) Caroline, married S. A. McMeans, Treasurer of the State of California.

James Dunklin married for his third wife an Irby, by whom he had issue one child, a son:

(1a.) Irby.

James Dunklin married for his fourth wife a widow in Alabama, Catherine Gafford, who survived him and by whom he had issue one child, a son:

(1b.) Daniel.

When James Dunklin left South Carolina he went to Alabama and settled at a place which he named Greenville (in Butler County) for the old home county in South Carolina.

I.-7—WILLIAM DUNKLIN, son of Joseph Dunklin by his wife Jean Wathin, was born in Orangeburg Township, South Carolina, May 17, 1781. He married in 1799, Anne Hendricks Hamilton, the daughter of Thomas Hamilton (son of David Hamilton by his wife Margaret Carlisle of Belfast, Ireland, who had emigrated to America in 1762, bringing their four-year-old son Thomas, who had been born in Ireland April 9, 1758, and who died August 1844), by his wife Temperance Arnold, in South Carolina. They moved to Alabama in 1819 and settled first in Butler County and later removed to Lowndes County near Collorine Hill, where they both died, he in 1828 and his wife in 1869. Both are burried in Wathin Cemetery, ten miles south of Benton, Alabama. They had issue:

1. Hanse Hamilton, born July 28, 1801.
2. John Hendricks, born September 28, 1803, died July 18, 1824, of fever; buried in Butler County, Alabama.
3. James Washington, born September 5, 1805.
4. Temperance Martin, born December 9, 1807, married William B. Haralson, September 13, 1827.

5. William Alanson, born January 30, 1810.
6. Thomas Wathin, born April 2, 1812.
7. Jane Caroline, born February 9, 1814, married January 27, 1829, Hugh Patrick Caffey, by whom she had issue: Thomas Dunklin, born May 23, 1831; died November 10, 1904, single; Hugh William,* born February 20, 1833; Hooper Patrick, born March 26, 1837, died September 13, 1863, married Maria Rast; Mary Ann, born January 23, 1840, married William Wathin Dunklin, and Irene Caroline, born October 29, 1845, died July 14, 1900, married John Ashurst Caffey.
8. Margaret Ann, born January 11, 1816, died 1817.

* HUGH WILLIAM CAFFEY (born February 20, 1833) married first Jerusha May Rives January 2, 1856, at Collirene, Lowndes County, Alabama. 10. Mary Greenville, born October 4, 1820, died 1823.

I.-1-2—JOSEPH DUNKLIN, son of Joseph Dunklin by his wife Sarah Sullivan, married Sarah Perkins in South Carolina. They moved to Mississippi, where he died in 1834. His widow then moved to near Lake Providence, Louisiana, where she lived many years, then went to Texas. His daughter Kate married Simon P. Johnson and lived in Texas.

I.-1-4—DANIEL DUNKLIN, son of Joseph Dunklin by his wife Sarah Sullivan, was born in Greenville, South Carolina, 1790. He went to Kentucky with his mother in 1806-7, and later to Missouri in 1810. He was among the first settlers in Missouri, who obtained Spanish Land Grants in and about the Village of Mine-a-Breton. He was elected Lieutenant-Governor of the State of Missouri in 1828-32, later becoming one of the Pioneer Governors of the State, from which position he resigned and was appointed United States Surveyor General, 1832-36. The County of DUNKLIN, Missouri, was named in his honor; it was organized February 14, 1845, and occupies a narrow strip of country lying between the counties of New Madrid and the Penicost and St. Francis River, is about fifty miles long and four hundred and fifty square miles in area. It is the greatest cotton growing county in the state, producing annually from eight to ten thousand bales, as much as all the other counties of Missouri combined. He married Emily W. Haley of Mercer County. He died in Jefferson County, Missouri, August 25, 1844 at the age of fifty-four years and his wife died nine years later. They had issue:

1. Mary W., born at Beverly, Missouri, March 26, 1816, married Franklin Cannon (born March 28, 1794, at Greensboro, North Carolina) Lieutenant-Governor of Missouri 1832-36.

He enlisted when seventeen years old, in the famous Hood's Texas Brigade, where he rose to the rank of sergeant in Company E, Fourth Texas Regiment, fighting to the close of the war, and surrendering with General Robert E. Lee at Appomattox. He was attended throughout the war by his faithful slave and body servant, Primus, who claimed some credit for his master's safe return. Many stories are told by his fellow companions, of his grit and steady pluck. Judge John West, of Waco, who was in the same Company, says of him in a letter:

"He was as jolly and jocund as a boy at a picnic. Even when death seemed to stare us in the face, he never faltered nor flinched. I was with him day and night in many hard marches, and two great battles, Gettysburg and Chickamauga, and no finer soldier ever carried a musket. I saw him on the march from Chattanooga to Knoxville with his feet wrapped in rags (when the brigade could be trailed by the bloody tracks in the snow) as there were only twelve pairs of shoes in the whole brigade, but he never complained, and when we met some Yankee prisoners going to the rear, he smiled and said, 'Hello, Yanks, how do you like the sunny South?' We have a reunion of Hood's Texas Brigade each year, and we speak of the gallant companions gone before, and the name of Sergeant Dunklin is always mentioned as a synonym of faithful devotion to duty, when the hour of trial came."

William Wathin Dunklin was educated and took three medical degrees, one from the Medical College of Galveston, Texas, one from the College of New Orleans, Louisiana, and the third from Bellevue Hospital, New York City. He was a physician of note, a member of the firm of W. A. Dunklin and Company of Galveston, Texas, and owned land extensively throughout the State. In the latter years of his life he engaged in planting, in addition to his profession, and with his brother, Francis Marion Dunklin, bought from his father the old home place, "Spring Hill," near the town of Waco. He married twice; firstly, in Lowndes Co., Alabama, September 4, 1864, his cousin Mary Ann Caffey, the daughter of Hugh P. Caffey and his wife Jane Caroline Dunklin, by whom he had issue:

1. Francis Thomas, born July 8, 1866; married Nannie Underwood, by whom he had issue one child, a daughter, Mable. He died May, 1911, Fort Worth, Texas.
2. Irene Eliza, born February 5, 1868, married Allison Harrison, by whom she had issue, Alice, Catherine and Ann Dunklin, all living at "Spring Hill," near Waco.
3. Timothy, twin brother of James, died May 7, 1890, sixteen years old.
4. James, twin brother of Timothy, died in infancy.

William Wathin Dunklin married for his second wife Hallie Milburn Atkins, the daughter of Benjamin F. Atkins and his wife Elizabeth Milburn and granddaughter of James Atkins and his wife Isabella McNeill, of North Carolina, by whom he had issue:

(1.) William Alanson, died in infancy.
(2.) Marion, married John Griffen, M. D.
(3.) Richard S.
(4.) William Wathin.
(5.) Jack Rust, married September 16, 1911, New York City, Josephine Belle Gates, the widow Mollenhauer, with one daughter named Ruth.

I.-4-1-4-2—GEORGE THOMAS DUNKLIN, son of James Hillory Dunklin by his wife Cynthia Brabham, served in the Confederate Army in Alabama. At the close of the war he moved to Texas and settled in Henderson County about twelve miles from Athens. He married twice; firtly, Ren Lee Henderson, by whom he had issue:

1. Cotus, now living on the old place in Henderson County.
2. James Hillory.
3. Crix.
4. Hattie, married James Hodge.

George Thomas Dunklin married for his second wife Jennie Elizabeth Shelby, the widow Simons, of Smith County, Texas (with two sons; Cicero F. Simons and Dr. James E. Simons, of Bay City), by whom he had issue, three sons and five daughters:

(1.) Della.
(2.) Georgie.
(3.) Earle.
(4.) Una.
(5.) Cora.
(6.) Thomas Brooks.
(7.) Joseph.
(8.) Gilbert Turner, who graduated from Dallas, Texas, High School, class 1906, and later in electrical engineering at Purdue University, at age of 21. He was elected to the Honorary Society of Sigma Chi, which is essentially a faculty Society and stands for investigation and research along scientific lines. He was left an orphan at 11 years and has, unaided, made his way. Numerous cities are using street light supports of his designing.

I.-7-5-4-(4)—WILLIAM WATHIN DUNKLIN, son of William Wathin Dunklin by his second wife, Hallie M. Atkins, was born at "Spring Hill," the family plantation near Waco, Texas. His earlier days were spent in Waco, where he was employed in the newspaper business, being identified with the Evening Telephone, a newspaper owned by his mother. In 1902 he moved to New York City where later he entered the stock brokerage business, becoming a member of the Consolidated Stock Exchange of New York.

In 1910, he, with A. L. de Laplante, Esq., organized the corporation of Laplante & Dunklin Printing Company, of which he was elected President.

He married November 6, 1907, at Dallas, Texas, Ethel Hastings Scruggs, the daughter of James Briscoe Scruggs and his wife Mary Isabella Dial.
